Welcome to the 2nd Edition of the Cullompton Community Builder Newsletter. How are we already at the end of January! This Edition of the Cullompton Community Builder Newsletter is jam packed with lots of community activities and up and coming community events, many of which are supported by local volunteers that dedicate their time to great local community causes.

Thank you to everyone that supported the first edition of the Community Builder Newsletter. It was fantastic to share lots of information about local clubs, groups and activities that are going on, in and around Cullompton.

Over the last 6 months I have had the pleasure of meeting and getting to know lots of local community groups, organisations and services in and around Cullompton. I just wanted to say how grateful I am for your warm welcome and I am so excited to be helping to support the development of several new community initiatives in Cullompton. One of which is the New Cullompton Community Friends website and Cullompton community online directory. Please see page 3 for more information.

Litter Picking at the CCA

Community Litter Pick

On Saturday the 26th of November myself and a group of volunteers took part in a Community Litter pick at the CCA fields in Cullompton. We managed to clear an impressive 9 bags full on rubbish in under 2 hours. I wanted to say a huge thank you to all the volunteers and the CCA for making this happen. I am looking forward to supporting many more litter picks in Cullompton this year.

What are the benefits of Litter picking?

- Getting outside and moving about.
- Helping the community.
- Helping to Keep Cullompton Tidy.
- Helping protect nature and wildlife
- Meeting others in the community.

Just a few great reasons to get involved!

Exciting news -

I am delighted to share that the Cullompton Town Council will soon have a community litter picking kit available free to hire.

Information on how to hire the litter picking kit will be available on the Town Council website shortly.

If you would like to plan a community litter pick and need some help with promoting or arranging this event, please get in touch.

Become a Cullompton Community friend?

Cullompton Community Friends is about the power of our community to support one another and share information about local non-profit or low cost community groups, organisations and services that are available in the Cullompton community to help promote health and wellbeing.

The concept of Cullompton Community Friends was inspired by the success of the Health Connections Mendip, a collective of GP practices that identified the importance of connecting members of the community with information about local free or low-cost community resources and services, that aim to support positive health and wellbeing.

As part of the Cullompton Community Friends initiative we have created a free online Cullompton community directory. The online directory will provide the opportunity for the community to find out about non-profit or low-cost groups, organisations and services available in Cullompton and the surrounding areas, to support positive health and well-being.

We will also be running regular Cullompton Community Friends information workshops, accessible to anyone who would like the opportunity to become a 'Cullompton Community Friend'. This doesn't involve volunteering, but instead means that they will have the ability to signpost their friends, family and colleagues to the online Community directory during their everyday conversations to support an even more connected Cullompton community. Please call 07842025352 or email charleneinvolve-middevon.org.uk to book onto a Free Cullompton Community Friends workshop.

There is no charge to be included on the online Cullompton Community Directory. Please visit www.cullompton.involve-middevon.org.uk to find out more information about how to add your local non-profit or low cost community group, activities, and services.

Devon Healing Horsemanship is one of the newest charities in Mid-Devon.

Louise, founder, explains how Devon Healing Horsemanship helps people who are struggling and for whom other more mainstream therapeutic approaches not be working.

"We work with people where all else has failed – when talking isn't working. That is to say, the people we work with either can't or won't engage with more mainstream talk-based therapies such as counselling, behaviour programmes or other kinds of support, or they have engaged with a talk-based therapy but this hasn't led to long-term changes for them."

"Our participants are all referred by statutory agencies or other charities - NHS mental health teams, social services, schools and charities supporting people with complex needs. If you are involved with such an organisation and have people to refer, do get in touch as we've recently been awarded a grant for 70 hours of sessions so we can help more people."

"We use a style of horsemanship where there is no riding involved. The easiest way to describe it is that our participants learn to be a horse whisperer. Our horses are very carefully trained to respond to body language and are very sensitive to the emotional state of the person giving them instructions. With the aid of highly trained facilitators, participants can learn to guide the horse – to get it to kick a ball, jump over an obstacle, turn or stop – all with no physical means of control other than their body language."

We are currently looking to expand our volunteering opportunities and would like to welcome new volunteers that could help us develop our services in the following areas;

- Volunteer Community Ambassador - We are looking for volunteers that can help increase community aware of our charity, help with planning and organising events to help raise valuable funds to support and develop our services.

- IT - Website Volunteer - We are also looking for a volunteer with IT skills to help develop our current website.

Please get in touch if with Devon Healing Horsemanship if want to know more, or if you can support them in any way. Devonhealinghorsemanship@outlook.com or call on 07876 220150.

The Waldron's Gardening Group

Many of us have had the pleasure of enjoying the Waldron's garden. Whether attending a community event, enjoying a coffee on one of the park benches, or just taking in the scenery and fresh air on a stroll into Cullompton town. We can probably all agree this is an absolutely, beautiful Cullompton community asset.

I was delighted to catch up with the wonderful Waldron's Gardening Group volunteers, to find out about the garden and how they dedicate their time to keep the gardens looking splendid all year around.

The Waldron's Gardening group has been established since 2014 and is comprised of a team of 7 gardening volunteers, who dedicate their time and skills to volunteer every Thursday morning between 10:00am -12:00pm. They carryout out a variety of gardening tasks that vary throughout the different seasons and can involve gardening activities, such pruning, weeding, clearing paths, litter picking, maintaining existing plants and shrubbery, and planting new carefully considered additions to the garden.

If you are keen gardener and want to share these skills then pop along to one of the regular gardening sessions on Thursday Mornings 10:00 - 12:00, meeting at the Waldron's Garden.
